Dear GrandView Client,

We hope you are well, safe and following the personal-protection advice recommended by the CDC. We are following those guidelines, too. We continue to work remotely on your behalf, studying the market's reaction to the news of the hour. Our physical office will remain closed at least through April 30, 2020.

Many of the brokerage accounts at Charles Schwab are currently in the money market to protect them from ongoing volatility in the markets. We believe there may be additional downward pressure on the markets due to the pandemic's effects on the U.S. and global economies.

Once the pandemic peaks, we will reassess our strategy and be in touch with you. Please reach out to us directly if you have any questions regarding your portfolio.

Stay well and God bless,
